

Curriculum Vitae

Prof. Dr. Danja Schünemann

Molecular Biology of Plant Organelles

Education and Professional Career

- 2009 to date Professor (W2) of Molecular Biology of Plant Organelles,
Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology, Ruhr University Bochum (RUB)
- 2007-2009 Temporary head of the Chair of Plant Physiology,
Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology, RUB
- 2002-2007 Junior Professor of Cell and Developmental Biology of Plants,
Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology, RUB
- 2002 Habilitation in Botany, Faculty of Biology, RWTH Aachen
- 1999-2002 Emmy-Noether fellowship (independent group leader),
Institute of Biology III, RWTH Aachen
- 1996-1999 DFG postdoctoral fellowship at the Carnegie Institute (Department of Plant Biology; laboratory of Dr. N. Hoffman) in Stanford (USA)
- 1992 – 1996 PhD thesis at the Institute of Plant Biochemistry
(supervisor: Prof. Dr. H. W. Heldt), University of Göttingen
- 1989 Study of Biology (6 months), University of York (UK)
- 1986 – 1992 Study of Biology, University of Göttingen, Germany

Professional Activities

Academic self-government

- 2011 to date Member of the faculty board
- 2014 to date Trust lecturer for students of the faculty
- 2014 - 2017 Departmental equal opportunity officer (Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology)
- 2016 - 2018 Examination committee chair (Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology)
- 2016 - 2018 Dean of Studies (Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology)
- 2018 - 2020 Vice dean (Faculty of Biology and Biotechnology)

Member in several search committees for faculty positions

Mentoring

Participation as mentor in various mentoring programmes for PhD students and postdocs of the Ruhr University Bochum, University of Osnabrück, RWTH Aachen and the TU Dortmund

Reviewer for various funding agencies and journals